

Report: Orange County Superior Court Self-Help Needs Analysis (California 2007)

This 2007 report is of a self help needs analysis that was conducted by the Planning and Research unit of the Orange County (CA) Superior Court. This needs analysis was conducted to examine self help needs across all justice centers and case types. Three surveys were conducted, 1) an exit survey of court users, 2) an online survey of staff and judicial officers, and 3) a survey of attorneys. Results of these surveys along with recommendations are provided in this report.

Last updated on October 14, 2015.

Year published: 2007

Topics

Reports

States

Files

Orange County Self Help Report 2007 6-27-07 Final.pdf

Print

Table of Contents