

Webinar: Alaska Family Law Self-Help Center (SRLN 2005)

Event Details

Wednesday, May 25, 2005 | 12pm-12pm EDT

This webinar on the Alaska Family Law-Self Help Center was presented on May 25, 2005, by the Center's then-co-director (and current SRLN Coordinator) Katherine Altener.

The Alaska Family Law-Self Help Center was established by the Alaska Court System in 2001 to improve access to the courts for “pro se” litigants, who are involved in the majority of family law cases. The Center helps self-represented people navigate through their divorce, dissolution and custody cases and related matters such as child support, visitation and paternity. The Center developed an innovative program to provide information and help self-represented litigants make informed decisions about how to advance their cases and resolve their family law matters as quickly as possible.

A copy of the webinar presentation and supplemental materials are available for download below.

Last updated on September 01, 2020.

State: Kate Lang

Year published: 2005

Document Author:

- Katherine Alteneder
- Self-Represented Litigation Network

Topics

Trial Court Self-Help Webinars

Tags

rural

States

Kate Lang

Regions

United States

Files

Webinar Presentation - AK Family Law SHC.ppt

Supplement - AK Family Law SHC Background Information.doc

Supplement - Alaska Efforts for SRLs.doc

Print

Table of Contents

