

Conference: 2016 NACM Annual Conference (Pittsburgh 2016)

Event Details

July 10 - 14, 2016 | 8:30am-5:30pm EDT

The 2016 National Association for Court Management (NACM) Midyear Conference took place July 10 - 14, 2016, in Pittsburgh, PA.

SRLN participated in two sessions titled:

- The Role of Court Administrators and Clerks in Developing Effective Partnerships to Close the Access to Civil Justice Gap

- What Would a User-Friendly Court Experience Look Like? Find Out from a UX Engineer Who Develops User-Friendly Processes for a Living
 - John Greacen's Presentation: Examining the Who, Why, and How of Self-Represented Litigants in Family Court
 - Mathias Burton's Presentation: An Introduction to Using Methods from User Experience Design
 - Handout: Evaluation of Alaska's Early Resolution Triage Program

For more information, please visit the NACM event page:

<https://www.nacmnet.org/conferences/index.html>

Last updated on July 27, 2020.

Year published: 2016

Topics

Conferences & Summits

Tags

User Experience \(UX\)

States

Regions

United States

Print

Table of Contents