

Research: Judge - SRL Communications Research (SRLN 2007)

Through funding from the State Justice Institute, the California Administrative Office of the Courts, and the Maryland Judiciary, the Self-Represented Litigation Network conducted two research projects this year (2006-2007). These projects are: 1) Courtroom Communication: Understanding and Improving Judge-Litigant Interaction in Self-Represented Litigant Cases and 2) Self-Evaluation Tools for Court Handling of Self-Represented Litigant Cases. The results of this research were the bases for the judicial education curricula. The attachment describes the research in more detail.
